Every dive washes your spirit clean...

Life is too short to spend it all on the surface.

Close your eyes and take a long, slow breath,

Feel the water caress your skin,

Exhale and hear the bubbles race towards

The feel and sounds of the sea and air stirs your soul like nothing else.

Take in this magical moment,

And relish that scuba diving makes you feel

Truly free and alive.

Welcome to Our World

Scuba diving is as close to an otherworldly experience as humans may ever experience. We float weightlessly in an environment that is alien to our species, and yet remarkably welcoming and relaxing. We come face-to-face with strange and wonderful creatures big and small, and we gather experiences and create memories that only a lucky few will ever know.

The sport of diving is welcoming to young and old alike, and its siren song will lure you to some of the world's most exotic and memorable locations around the world. We've heard and heeded the call, and for more than three decades we've pursued our passion and shared it with tens of thousands of like-minded enthusiasts.

In the pages that follow, we provide a colorful and detailed sampler of possibilities, and what awaits in each destination. Think of it as a starting point for adventure, and a to-do list of bucket-list experiences. Some offerings focus single-mindedly on the underwater experience, while many others add in the promise of beaches, water sports, land adventures and spa indulgences. So, whether you want to jet away for an impromptu long weekend in the Caribbean or start planning that big adventure half a world away, our team can make it happen. After all, it's our world, and we know it well.

There are reefs and there is THE REEF. Australia's Great Barrier Reef sits at the top of many diver's bucket list, and with good reason. Named as one of the seven wonders of the natural world, it is the largest coral community on the planet, and one of ocean's most biologically diverse habitats. It's all here, from the tiny and the exotic to the largest fish in the sea. Explorations of the reef can begin at land-based resorts in the city of Cairns or from idyllic Heron Island. Day trips take in a range of sites that feature wall dives, swim-throughs, expansive fields of hard corals and the dramatic formations known as bommies. Liveaboard dive vessels give access to an even greater range of underwater adventures, including the renowned sites of the Ribbon Reefs and the Coral Sea. Ashore, all the natural and cultural discoveries of the Land Down Under await.

Fiji is known as the Soft Coral Capital of the World, and a dive on aptly named Rainbow Reef is all that is needed to confirm this title. Here the currents nurture dense growths of alcyonaria soft corals, creating an undulating tapestry of life in colors ranging from ice blues and purples to vivid yellows, pastel pink and intense reds. These waters are not only colorful, but also rich in marine life. Fijian waters support more than 1,500 species of fish, several thousand varieties of unique invertebrates and 400 types of coral. Divers and snorkelers will discover an intriguing and diverse underwater environment that delivers everything from critter-rich bays and sun-dappled shallow reefs to precipitous walls, fish-laden pinnacles, shark-filled lagoons, shadowed grottoes and current-swept channels. The Fijian Island themselves are steeped in natural scenic beauty, and home to some of the friendliest people in the world.

The islands that inspired Darwin now beckon divers with a menagerie of big animal thrills. Sitting at the crossroads of the Equatorial Counter Current and the colder Humboldt Current, the Galapagos Islands are washed by nutrient-rich waters that harbor massive shoals of fish, and attract whales, sharks, dolphins, manta rays, sea lions and other apex predators to feast on the bounty. This is one of the only known places on the planet where hammerhead sharks school in great numbers. Against a seascape of dramatic volcanic formations, curious fur seals swoop in for a closer look at divers, while penguins and marine iguanas free dive the shallows in search of a meal. Liveaboard vessels give access to unique sites that spread across a 50,000-acre marine preserve, but no visit to the Galapagos is complete without a land tour to witness the birthplace of the theory of evolution.

Land Attractions & Water Sports

- · Drift snorkeling in German Channel
- Kayaking the Rock Islands
- Yap's three-ton stone money
- Visiting the lost city of Nan Madol

In the heart of the Western Pacific Ocean, a trio of destinations deliver some of the most storied underwater adventures on the planet. Yap's international claim to fame is the giant manta rays that appear at cleaning stations with near clockwork precision. Equally thrilling are the gatherings of gray, black and white tip reef sharks on offshore sites. The seafloor of Truk (Chuuk) Lagoon is strewn with a sunken Japanese fleet now shrouded in thick growths of coral, often sitting upright with cargo holds filled with relics of a wartime past. Palau delivers a smorgasbord of underwater adventures, from the swirling sea life drawn by the currents at Blue Corner to the shadowed chambers of Chandelier Cave and the unique freshwater residents of Jellyfish Lake. Surface intervals provide a chance to visit traditional villages or explore abandoned WWII fortifications cloaked in jungle foliage.

This is one of the Pacific's best-kept diving secrets. The Solomon Islands combine the marine life diversity of the Indo-Pacific with a dramatic range of underwater landscapes, and an extensive collection of historic war wrecks. Shallow reefs are covered in a variety of both hard and soft corals in almost every hue, and support parades of ornately colored reef fish and menageries of nudibranchs, shrimps and crabs. Other sites feature long lava tubes, caverns, walls and current-washed pinnacles where divers are immersed in a passing parade of sharks, big schools of tuna, trevally, barracuda and bumphead parrotfish. These islands saw ferocious fighting during World War II, and the Battle of Guadalcanal created Iron Bottom Sound. Here, an undersea graveyard for some 200 ships, 690 aircraft and several thousand smaller vessels has become a wreck diving mecca.

If you like sharks, the islands of Tahiti are for you. In the waters surrounding Tahiti and other members of the island group, shark encounters are common, but not threatening. Whitetip and blacktip reef sharks are often joined by larger lemon sharks on coral heads within lagoons, while channels leading to the open ocean draw swarms of gray reefs, silky, bulls, hammerheads, silver tips and more. These same spectacularly clear waters offer more big animal thrills, including sightings of manta rays, dolphins, sea turtles and swirling schools of jacks, tuna and barracuda. Divers less interested in the ocean's apex predators will also find sheltered coral gardens within the lagoons, where rays and reef fish are the norm. As a bonus, all of these experiences take place on some of the most scenic islands in the world.

The waters of Indonesia are at the epicenter of planetary marine life biodiversity, and the numbers are impressive: 13,000 islands stretch across a 3,000-mile swath of ocean, with thousands of square miles of coral reefs that are home to more than 3,000-plus species of fish, 500 varieties of hard and soft coral and thousands of enigmatic invertebrates. From the weird and wonderful critters in Lembeh Strait to the graceful mantas and coral spires of Komodo; the rich coral gardens of Raja Ampat and the dramatic walls and reefs of Wakatobi, the diving in Indonesia is some of the best in the world. Few places on the planet are as varied, and as packed with interesting and unusual marine life. Fish watchers and photographers can fill logbooks and image cards with bragging-rights subjects such as wunderpus, mimic octopus, flamboyant cuttlefish, mating mandarinfish, pygmy seahorses, harlequin shrimp, ornate ghost pipefish and a whole lot more.

Near the northwestern corner of Borneo, the small islands of Mabul and Kapalai are the gateway to spectacular diving. Top of the list is the nearby Sipadan Island Marine Reserve, where coral-covered walls rise 2,000 feet from the sea floor to attract vast numbers of green and hawksbill turtles, massive schools of barracuda and jacks, and a range of pelagic visitors such as mantas, hammerheads and the occasional whale shark. Mabul itself is a muck diving mecca, known for its extensive invertebrate population. Kapalai's shallows hold an equally intriguing mix of muck and coral reef species, along with a unique water village where divers can witness mandarinfish among the pilings. Other attractions include the coral-covered drop offs, slopes and plateaus of Tun Sakaran Marine Park, and Layang Layang Atoll, which is one of the few places in the world where divers can see schooling hammerheads.

The Maldives is a nation of coral reefs. Scattered across 35,000 square miles of the Indian Ocean are 26 atolls adorned with more than 1,200 coral-ringed islands. These waters offer a lifetime of possibilities and underwater adventures for divers of all abilities and interests. Reefs are home to more than 1,500 species of fish and 300 varieties of corals within protective barrier reefs, creating relaxing conditions for shallow dives. Channels through the reefs ebb and flow with the tides, luring sharks, manta rays and other apex predators to feast on the ocean's bounty. Outside the atolls, there are fish-laden pinnacles and adrenaline-pumping drifts along steep walls where whale sharks feed on plankton carried by the life-giving currents. Divers can choose between luxury liveaboard boats and idyllic resorts on small islands, many with rooms that perch directly over the water.

This is diving's last frontier, a wild land surrounded by a sea of possibilities. Papua New Guinea is known as the birthplace of muck diving, and Milne Bay remains one of the premier locations on the planet to seek out cryptic critters. But there is much more to discover. Kimbe Bay is home to more than half of the world's varieties of coral, and more than 900 species of fish. Rabaul offers towering walls and electrifying drift dives along ancient volcanic formations. The fjords of Cape Nelson hold forgotten WWII wrecks now overgrown in riotous growths of soft coral. Near Port Moresby, Lolota Island gives immediate access to the Papuan Barrier Reef for walls, drift dives and a trio of wrecks. Above the water, Papua New Guinea provides adventurous travelers with a chance to immerse in colorful traditional cultures and trek through pristine jungles.

Underwater Attractions & Experiences

- Top five destinations for muck diving
- Encounters with green turtles
- Whale shark encounters at Oslob
- · Thresher sharks at Malapascua Island

Land Attractions & Water Sports

- Kayaking mangrove lagoons
- Firefly watching on a Loboc River cruise
- Bohol's Chocolate Hills & Lamanok Caves
- A visit to Dumaguete's Malatapay Market

From the tiny and hidden to the biggest fish in the sea, the Philippines delivers an extraordinary variety of marine life, along with a remarkably diverse range of diving environments. Macro enthusiasts will find acres of fecund bottom to search for photogenic treasures such as harlequin ghost pipefish, flying gurnards and lacey rhinopias. Colorful tropicals flit through groves of massive table corals that thrive in the protected waters of marine parks. Offshore slopes, walls and pinnacles provide dramatic settings for drifts with schooling fish, while sheltered bays deliver relaxing second dives and exciting night excursions. Big animal encounters include turtles and sharks, plus consistent interactions with whale sharks, and one of the world's only opportunities to interact with the thresher shark. Ashore, the warm and inviting culture of the Philippines creates a welcoming environment where visitors are treated like family.

Land Attractions & Water Sports

- Visit the pyramids & Great Sphinx of Giza
- Tour through the Egyptian Museum in Cairo
- Tour Luxor's Valley of the Kings
- Take a quad bike safari into the Sahara Park

There's not a single reason why the Red Sea is one of the world's top dive destinations. There are many. At the top of the list is the abundance and diversity of marine life — everything from tiny treasures to big animals. Corals thrive in kaleidoscopic splendor, and are revealed by ample sunlight and water clarity that often passes the 100-foot mark. Through much of the year, warm waters prevail, and even winter conditions are refreshing rather than chilly. There are historic war wrecks, gregarious dolphins, dramatic walls, plenty of sharks, and chances for whale shark and manta encounters. A fleet of modern liveaboards departing from Egyptian shores gives access to all this and more, along with the opportunity to add land tours to some of the ancient world's most iconic sites.

Aruba's clear waters are filled with coral reefs and shipwrecks that deliver enough variety to keep divers busy from morning to night. Sites range from snorkel-friendly shallows to critter-rich slopes and deep drops that edge into extended range territory. The island's signature wreck, the SS Antilla, is an adventure for everyone. This large and historic vessel lies in relatively shallow water close to a sheltering shore, with sections rising high enough to be enjoyed by snorkelers. Reefs are equally easy to reach, with many just a short boat ride away from island dive centers, and more than a dozen accessible directly from shore. Aruba is one of the Caribbean's most cosmopolitan destinations, with upscale resorts, fine dining, casinos, and a lively nightlife scene. But it also has a wilder side best explored by jeep or four-wheeler safaris.

Diving in Barbados is both easy and memorable. The waters are calm, the boat rides relaxing, and a bounty of wrecks and reefs await discovery at moderate depths. But don't equate easy with uneventful, as an abundance of marine life and a diverse underwater landscape provides ample variety. Carlisle Bay's collection of diver-friendly ships are often visited by turtles and rays, while the 365-foot-long Stavronikita is one of the largest shipwrecks in the Caribbean. Those seeking adventure can delve a bit deeper at sites such as Shark Bank, or venture to the eastern shore when conditions allow you to discover a slightly wilder side to this decidedly civilized island. Known as the friendliest folk in the Caribbean, Barbadians, aka Bajans, offer a gregarious welcome to one and all to an island that still serves High English Tea mid afternoon, then pulses to African roots at night.

Protected, sheltered, diverse and accessible. These are the qualities that draw divers back to Bonaire time and again. The entire shoreline is surrounded by a no-touch, no-take Marine Park that safeguards some of the healthiest and most colorful reefs in the Caribbean. And the diving doesn't get any more convenient. The island's western shore is sheltered from prevailing wind and waves, creating calm conditions for both shore and boat diving. Because reefs begin just yards from the beach, and in sheltered water, access is easy, day or night. Divers can drive rental vehicles directly to well-marked sites along the coastal road and wade right in, or enjoy a relaxing boat ride to moored sites along the coast. Ashore, the vibe is low key and the focus is on outdoor recreation and natural attractions. Adventures include windsurfing, mangrove tours, mountain biking, hiking and day trips to remote, surf-washed coves.

- Road trip to East End and Rum Point
- Hiking the bluffs of Cayman Brac

Visit the birthplace of the wall dive. It started when scuba pioneers of the 1950s returned from the Cayman Islands with tales of sheer underwater cliffs that plummeted to unseen depths. Generations of underwater enthusiasts have since made these three islands the leading diving destination in the Caribbean. And there's something for all interests and abilities, from introductory immersions on shallow reefs and easy wreck dives to flight-like explorations of vertical walls and extended-range explorations into the depths of the Sponge Belt that push the boundaries of recreational diving. Venture to the northwestern side of the island where you can dive iconic north wall sites, the Kittiwake Wreck and famous Stingray City. After surfacing, you can swap stories with dive masters at the local pub or dine in five-star style.

 - The Blue Room at Curacao's West Coast

Land Attractions & Water Sports

- A trip through Hato Cave
- Sunset Sailing along the Curacao coast
- Live acoustic music at Jan Thiel Beach
- Art walk in historic district of Willemstad

For a preview of Curacao's reefs, you need only to stroll through the historic district of Willemstad, where colonial-era buildings display cheerful shades of orange, yellow and red. These same vibrant colors are mirrored in the prolific groves of soft corals and sponges that cover the island's underwater plateaus and submerged slopes. Underwater adventures come in all forms, whether making a shore dive on memorable sites such as Porto Marie or Alice in Wonderland, riding the currents at Watamula or venturing out to the deserted island of Klein Curacao to discover pristine reefs. Not to be missed are the iconic coral formations of Mushroom Forest, or a snorkel trip into the shadows of the Blue Room grotto. Director's Bay holds cryptic prizes such as seahorses, frogfish and flamingo tongues, while Diver's Lead delivers wall-diving drama.

Known as the nature island, Dominica is a land of rugged beauty. Ditto for what lies below, where the island's soaring peaks, steep cliffs and deep valleys transition to dramatic underwater drop offs, sheer walls and submarine canyons. Dominica's volcanic origins are evident in a seascape riddled with pinnacles, swimthroughs and bubbling fumaroles, while the nation's commitment to conservation is evident in the wealth of marine life and the healthy hard and soft corals that thrive within a trio of marine reserves. Small treasures from seahorses, cleaner shrimp, arrow crabs and frogfish to a plethora of invertebrates await the keeneyed diver and the avid macro photographer. Calm waters on the island's sheltered western shore create comfortable and inviting conditions for all, but excitement is never far away, and can be found on sites where converging Atlantic and Caribbean waters nurture vast schools of jacks, snapper and Creole wrasse.

Grenada lays claim to the title of "Shipwreck Capital of the Caribbean," and this distinction is justified not only by the number of sunken vessels that surround the island's shores but also the variety. In addition to an extensive collection of smaller, novice-friendly wrecks that sit at shallow to medium depths on the leeward side of the island, advanced divers can explore the largest wreck in the Caribbean, the 600-foot Bianca C, and other noteworthy blue-water wrecks such as the MV Hema and the King Mitch. But ships aren't the whole story, as there are more than 40 sites where divers of all abilities can enjoy lively reefs coated in elkhorn coral and brain coral, slopes covered in colorful sea fans, and ledges and caverns home to nurse sharks and large moray eels. Grenada is also home to the world's first underwater sculpture garden.

Many destinations claim to be a favorite of dive pioneer Jacques Cousteau, but it was the waters of Guadeloupe where he chose to create his first landmark film, The Silent World. The Caribbean reefs and fish life he immortalized now lie within a namesake marine reserve that includes some of the region's most popular dive sites. But that's just the start. In addition to coral gardens at diver-friendly depths, the waters of the Guadeloupe archipelago include a diverse range of underwater landscapes that takes in shipwrecks, arches and swim-throughs, submarine canyons and a dramatic offshore pinnacle. Complementing these underwater experiences are islands that combine natural beauty with French charm. Visitors can hike a volcanic peak, stroll a colorful village market, and indulge in spa treatments followed by a gourmet dinner on a waterfront terrace.

In the heart of the windward chain lies a Caribbean island known to few North American divers. But the word on Martinique is getting out, and those who visit this green volcanic gem discover a landscape that is as diverse and scenic below the waves as it is above. Divers can descend onto other-worldly landscapes of twisted fissures, spires and ridges formed by ancient volcanic forces, or enjoy long multi-level profiles on coral slopes and plateaus. The adventurous and experienced can explore a historic wreck sent down by one of the Caribbean's most dramatic natural disasters. The island's sunlit bays and coral shallows that provide hours of immersive relaxation, and one of the Caribbean's richest assortment of macro life. Also in the mix are bragging-rights dive through the center of a towering volcanic spire, deep dives and night dives on a sunken tall ship that the sea transformed into a haven for marine life.

At the northern end of the Leeward Islands, a group of less-visited destinations reward divers with a varied array of underwater adventures. The adjacent pairing of Saint Kitts and Nevis islands creates an underwater landscape that includes an expansive mid-water shoal, along with wrecks, near-shore slopes, and walls cut with canyons and arches. Saint Eustatius combines colorful reefs and modern shipwrecks with the historic remains of Colonial-era sailing ships. As a bonus, invertebrate enthusiasts and macro photographers will discover sections of seafloors alive with a wealth of subjects. The islands themselves, including Saba, which is visited by liveaboard, are equally diverse and interesting, providing visitors with mountain slopes to climb, historic sites to discover and picturesque harbor towns where Caribbean traditions live on.

One of the Caribbean's most scenic islands is equally stunning below the water. The sloping reefs that run close to Saint Lucia's calm western coast are covered in bright-hued carpets of gorgonians, black coral trees, sponges and lace coral. Dramatic seamounts rise from deep water to within a few feet of the surface. More than 150 species of fish thrive on the protected reefs of a marine preserve, delighting photographers with subjects such as golden spotted eels, seahorses, frogfish, turtles and a wealth of colorful invertebrates. Shipwrecks wear a vivid overcoat of marine life that transforms steel into a pasis of life. A reef that emits champagne-like bubbles, bioluminescent sea life and a mysterious serpentine creature known as "The Thing" all add to the allure of Saint Lucia's underwater realm. Above the water, beaches, forests and mountains become a playground for active adventure, or a backdrop for relaxation.

Clear waters, vibrant reefs and big walls. This promise becomes reality in the islands of the Turks & Caicos, where undersea plateaus riddled with swim-throughs, caverns and canyons lead to coral-dense cliff faces that drop abruptly from the shallows to depths of a mile or more. This is the land of the multi-level profile, where dives can begin with a descent on a wall covered in huge elephant ear sponges, and end more than an hour later in the sunlight shallows. To sweeten the experience, add in consistently stellar water clarity, a smattering of historic and modern wrecks, and thousands of acres of fish-laden coral heads and shallow reefs that see little diver traffic. Beachfront resorts on the island of Providenciales offer a full range of perks and indulgences; liveaboards cruise to remote and pristine reefs; and Grand Turk provides a step back in time.

The Baja Peninsula is the launching point for some of the most electrifying big animal encounters on earth. Liveaboards depart from Cabo San Lucas for the Socorro Islands, where undersea pinnacles attract giant manta rays, silky sharks, bottlenose dolphins, schooling hammerheads and more. Divers may be immersed in flashing shoals of jacks and yellowfin tuna, or catch a glimpse of migrating humpback whales. Back on the mainland, the historic port cities of La Paz and Loreto are the starting point for trips into the rich waters of the Sea of Cortez. Here, divers find a varied underwater landscape and sea life such as the huge fish shoals of Cerralvo Island, the playful sea lions of Los Islotes and the whale sharks that make seasonal appearances in the bay. Farther north, Guadalupe Island provides a rare and unforgettable opportunity for cage dives with great white sharks in cerulean blue waters.

Cozumel brings together all the elements for a perfect dive vacation. The western shores of this small Caribbean island are sheltered from prevailing winds and waves, and washed by currents that bring warm, clear waters. This life-giving flow nurtures luxuriant growths of brightly-hued sponges and soft corals that overgrow hard-coral ledges, ridges and drop offs. A menagerie of fish and invertebrates thrive on these reefs, and enjoy the full protection of a marine park. The currents propel divers on exhilarating but controlled drifts as they go with the flow. Adding to the island's appeal are direct flights from the US, a wide range of beachfront hotels to enjoy, and dive boats that make easy runs in calm waters to sites less than a mile from shore. After the dive, the picturesque waterfront town of San Miguel delivers an authentic helping of Mexican hospitality.

In addition to coastal coral reefs and miles of magnificent beaches, Mexico's Riviera Maya offers a number of unique underwater adventures. To the north, boats depart from Isla Mujeres for open-water swims with whale sharks and dives beneath swirling schools of baitfish corralled by sailfish. Big thrills continue when female bull sharks congregate off Playa del Carmen each winter. Calmer but no less thrilling adventures await those who immerse in the clear fresh waters of the cenote caverns that riddle the jungle landscape. Also in the diving mix are easy boat rides to spur-and-groove reef formations visited by turtles and tarpon, visits to fish-laden shipwrecks near Cancun, tours of the world's largest underwater sculpture garden and day trips to the world-famous reefs of Cozumel. Ashore there are ancient Mayan cities to explore and all the topside attractions of a world-class vacation destination.

The Bay Islands—Roatan, Utila and Guanaja— serve up the quintessential mix of Caribbean dive experiences. There are sheltered lagoons where divers can spend relaxing hours searching for cryptic marine life among the sea grass beds and coral heads. Coastlines are buttressed by hard-coral slopes riddled with clefts and crevices that harbor a colorful collection of reef fish and invertebrates. Sponge-covered walls plunge into the depths, while nearby seamounts attract passing pelagic fish. There are wreck dives, drift dives, night dives, shark dives and, for the lucky, an encounter with the biggest fish in the sea—the whale shark. Each of the three primary islands of the group have well-developed diving infrastructure, but distinctly different personalities. This allows divers to choose between the luxuries of a first-class resort or the camaraderie of a laid-back dive lodge.

Belize rewards divers with an abundance of underwater environments ripe for discovery and rich in fish life. Lying just inside the world's second-longest barrier reef is a string of small coastal islands known as cayes. Here, beaches open to sea grass beds and coral heads that are home to a wide range of marine life. Just a short boat ride away is the high-profile spur-and-groove formations of the outer reef. Also nearby are encounters with sharks and rays at the Hol Chan Marine Reserve. Farther offshore, a trio of atolls adds steep walls, schooling fish and the mysterious depths of the famous Blue Hole. On southern reefs, seasonal fish spawns draw massive whale sharks. Expansive shallows between cayes and the mainland serve as an aquatic playground for kayakers, fishermen and sailors, while the rainforests and mountains of the interior offer Mayan ruins, jungle river drifts, cave tours, off-roading, hiking and more.

The emerald waters of Costa Rica's Gulf of Papagayo are a fish watcher's delight. From flights of mantas and mobula rays to funnel clouds of jacks and snapper, the ocean teams with life. And the same submerged pinnacles that attract pelagic species also hide a wealth of small treasures such as seahorses and harlequin clown shrimp. The Catalina and Bat islands offers sea turtle encounters, fly-bys from numerous species of rays, massive shoals of fish and chances for shark sightings. More adventure awaits offshore on Cocos Island, where schooling hammerheads take center stage, with sea lions, mantas, turtles, whale sharks and dolphins adding to the show. Ashore, the Guanacaste region is the starting point for a wide range of eco-adventures that takes in everything from volcano hikes and rainforest zip line tours to whitewater rafting excursions or a good soak in a natural mineral hot spring.

THIS DOCUMENT CREATES A CONTRACTUAL RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN ROSE POINT HOLDINGS, INC., AND YOU, THE "CUSTOMER." AFTER READING THIS ENTIRE CUSTOMER AGREEMENT (THE "AGREEMENT"), IN ORDER FOR YOUR DIVE TRAVEL PACKAGE ("VACATION PACKAGE" OR "TRIP") RESERVATION TO BE COMPLETED, YOU MUST INDICATE YOUR ACCEPTANCE OF THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOUND IN THIS AGREEMENT EITHER BY ACCEPTING THEM ONLINE OR BY SIGNING AND SUBMITTING A PAYMENT.

PARTIES TO THIS AGREEMENT: Rose Point Holdings, Inc. D/B/A Caradonna Dive Adventures, Cayman Express, United Vacations, Delta Vacations or any other Trade/Business Name (herein referred to as "CDA," "we," "our," or "us") has arranged the Dive Travel Package described within this brochure. The traveler (herein referred to as "Customer," "I," "you," or "your") who has reserved a Dive Travel Package as described in this brochure/flier/website/invoice/ confirmation and who intends to participate in the Dive Travel Package so reserved and by such participation and payment as provided for in this Customer Agreement ("Customer Agreement" or "Agreement") hereby agrees to be bound by and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement."

BOOKING PROCEDURES: To make a booking you must acknowledge acceptance of the Customer Agreement in the manner provided for on our website and pay a deposit of US $200.00 per person or more as required by supplier. We will then invoice you for the remainder of the cost, which you must pay no later than 60 days before departure. If you book less than 60 days before departure, full payment must be made on booking by certified check or credit card. The booking is not accepted and no contract exists until the date shown on the confirmation issued by CDA. Bookings made over the telephone, by email, or by credit card more than 60 days before departure will not be deemed accepted until we have received your acceptance of the Customer Agreement in the manner provided for on our website or a payment which constitutes agreement to the terms and conditions. If you do not pay the balance of your Dive Travel Package cost within 60 days of departure, your booking will be terminated and you will lose your deposit. A fee of US $25.00 will be added to the Dive Travel Package price for the second and subsequent revisions. In addition, a fee of US $25.00 per person will be charged should a new set of travel documents be required because of any revision. Bookings made within 30 days or less prior to departure will be subject to a US $25.00 non-refundable fee to cover administration costs and express delivery of documents. We reserve the right to refuse a reservation made by: (i) a person under the age of eighteen (18) without the written consent of a parent or legal guardian first having been obtained, and (ii) a person not certified by an internationally recognized SCUBA diving certification association, acceptable to us. No charge will be made for the first revision to any booking.

CANCELLATION PROCEDURES: Notification of cancellation must be made to CDA in writing. If you cancel your Dive Travel Package booking, the following cancellation charges will be made: (i) Written notification of cancellation received at our offices between 60 and 45 days before departure, $100.00 per person; (ii) Written notification of cancellation received at our offices between 45 and 30 days before departure: $200.00 per person; (iii) Written notification of cancellation received at our offices less than 30 days before departure (or failure to join the Trip): 100% of the Dive Travel Package cost; (iv) These fees are in addition to any vendor fee that may be assessed, (up to 100%).

ACCURACY OF INFORMATION: The information contained in our brochure, pricing documentation and on our website is correct to the best of our belief, but we accept no liability for any inaccuracies contained therein. Any information or advice provided by us on matters such as permits, visas, vaccinations, climate, clothing, baggage, special equipment, etc. is given in good faith but without responsibility on our part, and you accept responsibility for obtaining any necessary visas and travel documents required for the Dive Travel Package.

MISCELLANEOUS: Any flights forming part of the Dive Travel Package arrangements are subject to the conditions of the carrying airline, which in most cases limit the airline's liability to the passenger in accordance with international law and conventions. Any likeness or image of you secured or taken during your participation in a Trip may be used by us without charge in all media (whether now existing or in the future invented) for promotional or marketing purposes, including without limitation promotional materials of any kind, such as brochures, slides, video shows and the internet. By accepting the Customer Agreement, you agree that, if necessary, we may pass your contact details and numbers to any third party connected with the operation of the specific Dive Travel Package which you have booked. This information will not be used for any other purpose by the third party, nor will it be passed to any other parties. Please note that international airlines are required by applicable laws to give border control agencies access to passenger data. Accordingly any information we hold about you and your travel arrangements may be disclosed to the customs and immigration authorities of any country in your itineary or to which you may be diverted. This Customer Agreement may only be waived or amended by written mutual consent. When you accept this Customer Agreement, you agree with all these conditions.

DOCUMENTATION: You must carry valid proof of citizenship and proper identification (current Passport). If you are traveling with children, some countries require specific travel permissions from both birth parents. Since proof varies with each country, contact our office about your specific destination. All persons on Dive Travel Packages must have a current, valid scuba certification card issued by an internationally recognized SCUBA diving certification association acceptable to CDA. Without proper identification, a passport and necessary visas, you will not be permitted to depart. It is your responsibility to verify your necessary travel documents.

BAGGAGE: Airline baggage fees are additional and collected by the carrier upon check in for your flights. Please see http://www.caradonna.com/baggage for the latest baggage charges. CDA STRONGLY ADVISES YOU TO PURCHASE TRAVEL/BAGGAGE AND TRAVEL CANCELLATION INSURANCE.

RISKS AND WARNINGS: For information regarding possible dangers at international destinations, contact the Travel Advisory Section of the US State Department, (202) 647-5225, https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/traveladvisories/traveladvisories.html. For medical information, contact the Center for Disease Control, (404) 332-4559, www.cdc.gov/travel.

ARBITRATION: You agree that any dispute concerning, relating or referring to this Agreement, the brochure/flier/website/invoice or any other literature concerning your Trip, the Trip itself or any claim for damages due to injury or death which occurs during or in connection with the Trip shall be resolved exclusively by binding arbitration according to the then existing rules of the American Arbitration Association in an arbitration conducted in Redmond, WA, U.S.A. Such proceedings will be governed by substantive Washington law. The dispute will be resolved by a single arbitrator who must be a lawyer admitted to practice in the courts of at least one state in the United States and have a minimum of fifteen years of experience in civil litigation. The arbitrator so described will be selected by the American Arbitration Association. Each party to the dispute shall have the right on a single occasion to veto the designation of an arbitrator so selected. There will be judicial review of the arbitrator's decision if either side can show plain error in the application of law or be able to show an abuse of discretion with respect to factual findings. The parties waive the right to rely on any state law or statute which creates an exception to enforcement of the requirement that disputes be resolved pursuant to arbitration in the manner set forth herein.

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: IN CONNECTION WITH ANY ACTION OR LEGAL PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, THE PARTIES HEREBY SPECIFICALLY AND KNOWINGLY WAIVE ANY RIGHTS THAT EITHER PARTY MIGHT HAVE TO DEMAND A JURY TRIAL. EXCLUSIVE GOVERNING LAW AND EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION: THIS AGREEMENT AND ANY ACTIONS AND PROCEEDINGS BROUGHT HEREUNDER SHALL BE GOVERNED BY THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON, WITHOUT REGARD TO CONFLICTS OF LAWS PRINCIPLES. IF THE RIGHT TO SEEK ARBITRATION IS FOR ANY REASON WAIVED BY BOTH PARTIES, OR IF JUDICIAL REVIEW OF ANY ARBITRATION DECISION IS SOUGHT, ANY ACTION OR LEGAL PROCEEDING TO ENFORCE ANY PROVISION HEREOF, OR BASED ON ANY RIGHT ARISING OUT OF, THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE BROUGHT EXCLUSIVELY IN THE COURTS OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA, OR, IF IT HAS OR CAN ACQUIRE JURISDICTION, IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON, AND ALL OF THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY CONSENT TO THE EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION OF LEGAL PROCEEDING AND WAIVE ANY OBJECTION TO VENUE OR JURISDICTION IN CONNECTION THEREWITH.

SEVERABILITY: The invalidity or unenforceability of any part of this Agreement, or the invalidity of its application to a specific situation or circumstance, shall not affect the validity of the remainder of this Agreement, or its application to other situations or circumstances. Any provision of this Agreement held invalid or unenforceable only in part or degree will remain in full force and effect to the extent not held invalid or unenforceable.

WAIVER: Any failure by either party at any time, or from time to time, to enforce or to require the strict keeping and performance of any of the terms or conditions of this Agreement shall not constitute a waiver of any such terms or conditions and shall not affect or impair such terms and conditions in any way or the right of such party at any time to avail itself of such remedies as it has for the breach or breaches of such terms and conditions.

CONFLICT: In the event of any inconsistency or conflict between the terms of this document and any terms or conditions otherwise applicable to the trip, the terms of this document shall prevail.

EXCLUSIVITY: Except as otherwise expressly provided to the contrary, the rights herein granted and this Agreement are for the benefit of the parties hereto. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall be exclusive of any advertising, marketing or other sales literature or activities of CDA and nothing contained in any of such materials shall be construed to create any rights as a result of or in connection with this Agreement.

RESPONSIBILITY: YOU UNDERSTAND AND AGREE THAT ALL TRAVEL ARRANGEMENTS INCLUDED IN THIS TRIP ARE MADE ON YOUR BEHALF UPON THE EXPRESS CONDITION THAT NEITHER CDA NOR ITS OWNER. DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES AGENTS, CONTRACTORS OR SUBCONTRACTORS SHALL BE LIABLE OR RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY NEGLIGENT OR WILLFUL ACT OR FAILURE TO ACT OF ANY THIRD PARTY, SUCH AS OPERATORS OF AIRCRAFT, TRAINS, MOTORCOACHES, PRIVATE CARS, CRUISE VESSELS, BOATS, SHIPS OR ANY OTHER CONVEYANCE, HOTELS, SIGHTSEEING EXCURSIONS, LOCAL GROUND HANDLING, ETC. WHICH ARE TO OR DO SUPPLY ANY GOODS OR SERVICES FOR YOUR TRIP. YOU FURTHER UNDERSTAND THAT CDA NEITHER OWNS NOR OPERATES SUCH THIRD PARTY SUPPLIERS AND ACCORDINGLY AGREE TO SEEK REMEDIES DIRECTLY AND ONLY AGAINST THOSE SUPPLIERS AND NOT HOLD CDA RESPONSIBLE FOR THEIR ACTS OR OMISSIONS. WITHOUT LIMITATION, CDA IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY NEGLIGENT OR WILLFUL ACTS OF OTHERS OR FOR ACTS OF GOD OR FORCE MAJEURE, WEATHER EMERGENCIES, BREAKDOWN, OR FAILURE OF DIVING OR MECHANICAL EQUIPMENT, GOVERNMENT ACTIONS, INCLEMENT WEATHER, SICKNESS, ATTACKS BY ANIMALS, AVAILABILITY OF MEDICAL CARE OR THE ADEQUACY OF THE SAME, CRIMINAL ACTIVITY OF ANY KIND, TERRORISM, WAR, CIVIL DISTURBANCE, SANITARY CONDITIONS, OUALITY OR SANITATION OF FOOD, OUARANTINE, CUSTOMS REGULATIONS, EPIDEMICS, STRIKES, HOTEL OVERBOOKING, SAFETY AND/OR SECURITY STANDARDS AT HOTELS OR OTHER ACCOMMODATIONS, ANY PROBLEMS OR INJURIES WHATSOEVER ARISING FROM SWIMMING OR SCUBA DIVING OR FOR ANY OTHER REASON BEYOND THE CONTROL OF CDA. AND YOU UNDERSTAND, AGREE WITH, AND AGREE TO BE LEGALLY BOUND BY THE TERMS OF THE RELEASE AND WAIVER OF LIABILITY SET FORTH HEREIN.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RISK: I understand and acknowledge that my travel in connection with and participation in the Dive Travel Package arranged at my request by CDA may involve risk and potential exposure to injury and possibly death. I specifically acknowledge and recognize the potential for injury and death which can result from swimming or SCUBA diving, including the malfunction of dive equipment, the natural environment, animal or sea life, currents and other changing conditions, decompression sickness, embolism or other hyperbaric injuries. I realize and acknowledge that diving with compressed air, Nitrox, tri-mix, or other gases involves certain risks and requires specific training. I certify that I have been properly trained for the breathing mixture(s) I will use and understand the risks involved. I also realize and acknowledge that risk and dangers may be caused by the negligence of the owner, directors, employees, contractors, subcontractors, officers or agents of CDA or the negligence or participation of other participants, contractors and/or subcontractors to CDA. I also recognize and acknowledge that risk and dangers may arise from foreseeable and unforeseeable causes, including weather and other acts of nature. I fully understand and acknowledge that the aforementioned risks, dangers and hazards are a potential in connection with recreational activities which may take place during my Trip.

EXPRESS ASSUMPTION OF RISK AND RESPONSIBILITY: In recognition of the inherent risk of the travels and related activities in which I am intending to engage, I confirm that I am physically and mentally capable of participating in the activity and that I alone am responsible for my own activities while engaged in SCUBA diving. I am willingly and knowingly electing to participate in this Dive Travel Package in spite of the potential risk of danger and I willingly and voluntarily assume full responsibility for any injury, loss or damage suffered by me or caused by me, whether caused in whole or in part by the negligence of the owner, directors, agents, officers, employees, contractors or subcontractors of CDA.

RELEASE OF LIABILITY: In consideration of the services and arrangements provided by CDA, I, for myself and for my heirs, personal representatives or assigns, do hereby release, waive, discharge, hold harmless and agree to indemnify CDA, and its owner, officers, directors, agents, contractors, subcontractors and employees from any and all claims, actions, or losses for bodily injury, property damage, wrongful death, loss of services, lost profits, consequential, exemplary, indirect or punitive damages or otherwise which may arise out of or occur during my travel in connection with the scheduled Dive Travel Package and any activities conducted in conjunction therewith. I SPECIFICALLY UNDERSTAND THAT I AM RELEASING, DISCHARGING AND WAIVING ANY CLAIMS OR ACTIONS THAT I MAY HAVE PRESENTLY OR IN THE FUTURE FOR THE NEGLIGENT ACTS OR CONDUCT OF THE OWNER, DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS. CONTRACTORS OR SUBCONTRACTORS OF CDA.

EXPRESS WAIVER OF ANY RIGHT TO SEEK CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR EXEMPLARY DAMAGES:Regardless of the situation or circumstances giving rise to a claim, I waive any right to seek consequential, punitive or exemplary damages against CDA its owner, officers, directors, agents, contractors, subcontractors and employees, for any reason whatsoever.
